

Climate Chance Summit Europe 2022

“European Green Deal: local governments, businesses and citizens at the heart of the European transition”

First major in-person Climate Summit since the COP in Glasgow

The Climate Chance Summit Europe will be held on 7 and 8 March 2022 at the Cité des Congrès in Nantes, in synergy with the European Climate Conference organised in the same venue by the French Presidency of the Council of the European Union (FPEU).

CLIMATE CHANCE SUMMIT EUROPE
7th-8th March 2022
#SCCE2022

2022 is an important year for the implementation of the European Green Deal and towards the final negotiations on effort-sharing between European countries to reach the Fit for 55 targets by 2030. The French Presidency of the Council of the European Union (FPEU) is a key moment to make progress on the climate agenda.

Nantes is hosting the two-day European Climate Conference, which will together 300 State-invited climate experts from all over Europe. This was a brilliant opportunity to organise a Climate Chance Summit, in parallel and in synergy with this event, to gather the community of non-state climate actors, at heart of Climate Chance’s activities since its creation in 2015.

This first Climate Chance Summit Europe will bring together local and regional elected officials, entrepreneurs, researchers and citizens who engage in dialogues with high-level European officials present at the FPEU conference - on the theme "European Green Deal: local governments, businesses and citizens at the heart of the European transition" - and bring to light opinions and proposals.

The exclusive 2-day programme, with keynote speakers, interactive workshops and round tables bringing together the diverse climate community, high-level experts and actors in the field, will propose:

- Dialogues on the challenges of mitigation and adaptation to climate change at the European level (one day dedicated to each), on Europe's international action on climate, particularly in terms of cooperation with Africa. Over thirty workshops will debate and define concrete proposals to strengthen the implementation of European climate policies in the territories. These proposals will be compiled and sent to the European Commission and the governments of the 27 Member States.
- Two high-level plenary sessions with the main leaders and representatives of the major European networks present in Nantes, on the implementation of the Green Pact and on the just transition.
- A sharing of best practices in climate action by European actors following a call for contributions launched at European level.

PLENARY SESSIONS

Two high-level meetings bringing together all participants of both events will allow for an in-depth dialogue

MONDAY 7 2PM - JOINT OPENING PLENARY WITH THE FPEU CONFERENCE: From Glasgow to Sharm el-Sheikh, from European Green Deal to local climate action: towards a new dynamic?

A few months after Glasgow, this plenary session will be an opportunity for a multi-level dialogue between representatives of the UNFCCC, representatives of European and State institutions and local actors, local governments, businesses, associations, and more. It will be an opportunity to highlight the importance of bringing concrete actions by stakeholders to the forefront of discussions, whether it be on the rapid reassessment of States' commitments, decided by COP26, or on the implementation of European policies to reduce CO2 emissions (Fit-for-55), as well as the implementation of the European Green Deal at a local.

This plenary session will allow us to draw the first lessons from the two days of debates, workshops and exchanges, and to present the main lines of operational proposals for the implementation of the Green Pact for Europe at the territorial level. It will stress on the need to integrate the issues of social cohesion and international solidarity and the link between Europe and Africa, in the implementation of these new European climate action policies. The session will highlight the importance of a convergent approach between the three conventions born from the Rio conference in 1992 on Climate, Biodiversity and Desertification.

ROUND TABLE DISCUSSIONS

Four round table discussions of 2 hours long on cross-cutting issues : sharing experience and presentations of proposals for the European Green Deal.

MONDAY 7 10AM - The Role of Local Actors in the European Green Deal and Fit-for-55 - European Committee of the Regions (CoR)

With the European Green Deal, the EU is committing itself and all actors involved in European governance as part of an ambitious programme to transform production, consumption, mobility and construction or renovation of buildings. What role will the territories play in the transition to a low-carbon Europe? What resources will they be able to mobilise to achieve the objectives set for 2030 and 2050? How can citizens and economic actors be involved on the ground? What relations between local authorities, the State and Europe would this new policy imply? These are some of the questions that this round table will attempt to answer with local representatives, representatives of European networks of local authorities, as well as European institutions.

Speakers

Rafał Trzaskowski, Mayor of Warsaw, European Climate Pact Ambassador in Poland and Energy Efficiency Directive of the Committee of Regions Rapporteur, Member of the European Committee of the Regions, Member of Eurocities Executive Committee of Eurocities ; Chloé Girardot Moitié, Vice President of Resources, Natural spaces, Biodiversity and Land action of the Loire-Atlantique Department ; Philippe Laurent, Mayor of Sceaux, Vice President of the French Mayors Association (FMA), President of the French Association of the Council of European Municipalities and Regions (FACEMR) and Vice President of the Council of European Municipalities and Regions (CEMR) ; Bettina Laville, President of the Comité 21 ;

MONDAY 7 - 4PM - Employment and Training: New jobs in the Ecological Transition - CliMates / Schneider Electric

As the energy transition is at the heart of the European Green Deal, it is crucial to take into account the aspect of training and access to new jobs in order to guarantee a fair and inclusive transition. The energy transition in Europe is reflected in a gradual change in jobs and a strengthening of the role of innovation in organisations. How can the challenges of the transition be taken into account in training programmes? How can employees be trained in the challenges of the transition? This workshop will be an opportunity to create a dialogue between businesses and associations working on the integration of socio-ecological and energy transition topics in university programmes.

Speakers

Gilles Vermot-Desroches, Senior Vice President Citizenship and International Relations, Schneider Electric France; Victor de Laleu, Secretary General, CliMates ; Johanna Wagner, Co-Founder of La Belle EDuc

TUESDAY 10AM - Recommendations for a Gender-inclusive European Green Deal and EU climate policies - European Committee of the Regions / Women Engage for a Common Future (WECF)

Today the EU Green Deal remains largely gender-blind, and therefore not developing all the potential of all EU citizens to contribute to the climate objectives. Many policies and instruments can be shaped to take into account the views of the whole of the society. Will we be able to reach the transformative impact needed for a just and inclusive transition towards a sustainable future?

Speakers

TUESDAY 2PM - Access to Climate Finance - Climate Chance / Conseil Économique Social et Environnemental (CESE) / Finance for Tomorrow / Association Française du Conseil des Communes et Régions d'Europe (AFCCRE) / France urbaine

In December 2020, the Council of the European Union agreed on a Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF) of €1074 billion for the period 2021-2027, with the ecological transition at the heart of its roadmap, the European Green Deal. Combined with the €750 billion Next Generation EU recovery plan to bounce back from the COVID-19 pandemic, never before has so much public money been made directly available to shift our societies to a low-carbon model. The MFF 2021-2027 sets out the principles of integration, specialisation and generalisation of the alignment of public spending with the Paris Agreement and its climate objectives across all structural funds.

How can local governments, regions and local actors benefit from these funds to support and finance their climate strategies and actions? What tools are available to them to access the funds? How can they influence the orientation of European funds towards low-carbon and climate-friendly projects?

Speakers

Vincent Chauvet, Mayor of Autun, Member of the Committee of the Regions ; Representative of the Caisse des Dépôts ; Grégoire Chauvière Le Drian, Head of the European Investment Bank (EIB) Group Office in France ; Representative of Urban France ; Laurence Pessez, Laurence Pessez, Head of Social and Environmental Responsibility, BNP Paribas (to be confirmed) ; Representative of Regions4

STRENGTHENING CLIMATE ACTION

LED BY LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, BUSINESSES, CIVIL SOCIETY, AND HELPING TO ACHIEVE THE OBJECTIVES OF THE PARIS
CLIMATE AGREEMENT

FIVE YEARS OF STRENGTHENING THE ACTION AND VISIBILITY OF THE NON-STATE ACTOR COMMUNITY

The fight against climate change needs the contribution and commitment of all actors. Since 2015, Climate Chance is the only international organisation seeking to bring together all non-state actors recognised by the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC): local authorities, businesses and civil society. Climate Chance's unique position stands on 3 main activities:

1. BRING TOGETHER NON-STATE ACTORS

Since 2015, the organisation of events and annual Summits has been the DNA of the organisation. The Climate Chance Summits are the moment of convergence of our community and are the opportunity to bring out common priorities and proposals during the major events of the climate agenda, in particular the COPs. Through a bottom-up and collaborative approach, the African Coalitions continue the mobilisation of our network and multi-actor work throughout the year.

Climate Chance seeks to link the three dynamics of the United Nations Conventions on the Environment (Biodiversity, Climate, Desertification) and is launching a new initiative on biodiversity, with the establishment of a major international coalition on biodiversity corridors in Africa.

2. ANALYSE CLIMATE ACTION

The Climate Chance Observatory's annual Report is a unique reference publication for decision-makers at the global scale. Each year, it analyses and synthesises the climate actions actually carried out by local authorities, businesses, civil society and financial actors

3. SHARE AND SPREAD INFORMATION

Dedicated to climate action led by local governments, businesses and civil society, our Portal for climate action gathers a large number of resources and best practices for and by climate actors, at the global level, including 3 specific tools: Cartography for action, climate Library and climate Agenda.
